Casino Night Update

On February 9th 2013, over 100 people gathered at the Brass Cannon located at the Stonewall Country Club for a night of fun to help support the Haymarket Regional Food Pantry. The fun was a Casino Night in Virginia, which included roulette, poker, craps and black jack tables, door prizes, 50/50 raffle and Chinese auction. The Brass Cannon was decorated in gold, purple, and green with masks and knick-knacks reminiscent of Mardi Gras and New Orleans.

Guests were given beads and paper "Casino Bucks" to exchange for chips as they entered into the Casino. When the night was done, chips were exchanged for prize tickets, which guests used to take their chances on Chinese Auction items donated by our sponsors. Our goal for this event was to bring more awareness of the Food Pantry, expanding to a larger community and, of course, to raise funds. Both goals were attained and all of the attendees enjoyed the evening. One of the key ingredients for this type of event is the support of our sponsors; without their generous donations of gifts and services we could not fulfill our mission. True Farms and Tom Truesdale, a.k.a. the "Lettuce Guy"

Known around the Food Pantry as "the Lettuce Guy" Tom Truesdale and wife Debbie Truesdale have been generous supporters of the HRFP over the years. Each week, their hydroponic farm, True Farms, generously donate about 300-400 pounds of lettuce to several local food banks, including the Haymarket Regional Food Pantry. In recognition of their generosity and continued support, Tom and Debbie have been featured in an article on our website. Click here to read more.
